

Computer Literacy Program 2013 Annual Report

It is a pleasure to report to you the 2013 year-end status of the Computer Literacy Program (CLP). CLP was launched in late 2004 by the Volunteers Association for Bangladesh, New Jersey (VAB-NJ) to empower the underprivileged youths of rural Bangladesh through hands-on computer training and ICT-enhanced education. VAB, parent organization of VAB-NJ, supports traditional educational programs to improve quality of education in Bangladesh. With generous help and continuing support from donors and sponsors like you, VAB-NJ has attained considerable success:

- To date, CLP has established 313 Computer Literacy Centers (CLCs) in 57 of 64 districts of Bangladesh (over 1.5% of all schools now have CLCs). In addition, we established 156 Associate centers, bringing to a total of 469 centers where students are receiving hands-on computer literacy training free of charge.
- 70% of the CLCs are in rural areas.
- Teachers trained: 686 (18 % female).
- Students trained: Over 76,000 (49% girls).
- Established a total of 152 Smart Class rooms (SCRs) in different regions of the country (see map).
- Many local and multinational organizations are supporting the program. These include British Council (Dhaka), Microsoft Asia, Intel, Bank Asia, Relief International, Sentrana Corporation, Standard Chartered Bank-Bangladesh, Newton Institute (Dhaka), Foyzunnesa Ahamed Foundation (FAF); and philanthropic organizations, such as, Khan Family Foundation in USA, NABIC in USA, Spandaan B - Austin, IK Foundation Bangladesh, and Kamal Hossain Family Foundation Bangladesh.

2013 Activities Highlights

- ❖ Established 33 CLCs and 32 SCR.
- ❖ Trained 60 new CLC teachers (21% female) and 128 SCR teachers (16% female). 8399 students received CLP course completion certification in first ten months of 2013.
- ❖ The current training cost is ~ $6 per trainee and decreasing.
- ❖ Developed multimedia contents for English and General Science for students in classes VI and VIII; and for Geography and Mathematics for students in classes IX and X.
- ❖ Hosted a lively CLP annual event on June 22, 2013 at Rutgers University Center, NJ, USA.
- ❖ Organized a send-the-message-out event, “Computer Literacy Program: Steps towards a Digital Bangladesh” at the Bangladesh Embassy, Washington, DC on March 9, 2013.
- ❖ Collaborated with British Council Bangladesh (BCB) to implement two BCB programs, After School Club for Students and Continued Professional Development (CPD) for Teachers, aimed at developing ICT and English skills, support global citizenship through awareness, and cultural interaction.
- ❖ Many earlier-established centers need hardware replacement. With generous support from center sponsors, as well as, individual and institutional donors, we replaced 57 computers, 22 monitors, 8 UPSs, and 4 printers.
- ❖ VAB-NJ expects to evolve into Computer Literacy Program Volunteers for the Underprivileged (CLP) in 2014 for organizational and operational agility and simplicity.

VAB-NJ sincerely appreciates your support for CLP to maintain its current level of activities. Your continued support and generous contributions are crucial to the overall success of the program. Please visit (www.vabonline.org/vabnj) for more detailed information on our program.

Mark your Calendar!

The 2014 CLP annual event is tentatively scheduled for August 9, 2014 at Rutgers University, New Jersey. Please mark your calendar, and we will contact you with details as we get close to that date. We look forward to your participation in the event and continued support in the future.

CLP volunteers wish you, your family and friends a happy holiday season, and a productive and prosperous new year.
